WELCOME TO

Rowan County, North Carolina

From the broad Atlantic coastal plain, the land rises to form the Piedmont Crescent that arches its back against the craggy Blue Ridge Mountains. Rowan County is nestled along the central ridge of the Piedmont, offering residents and visitors a uniquely strategic location and an environment rich with rolling hills and a temperate climate. Salisbury, the county seat, and the surrounding municipalities provide the perfect blend of urban and rural lifestyles. An area rich with cultural heritage, Rowan County offers an opportunity to celebrate the past, while enjoying the present and planning for the future.
